The school directors of Winslow township met last Saturday and let the contracts for building three new school houses. J. B. Young is to build two for following amounts: Rathmel, $963.00; Kline, $415.00. Hannibal Hutchinson is to erect the Sandy Valley house for $474.00. The directors bought their new school furniture from W.S. Trainor, of Brookville.

M. J. Farrell's little boy was having some fun with matches Sunday afternoon and came very nearly giving himself quite a roasting. He light a match just as his mother came into the room and on seeing her he quickly threw his little hand, holding the fire, behind him, in an instant his waist ignited and it took quick work to save the boy from a severe burning.

A number of illegal liquor sellers were arrested in Washington township on Wednesday of last week. There is a law and order league in that section which is composed of citizens who are banded together for the purpose of doing away with illegal dispensers of the cup that intoxicates. It is said that some of the offenders will have to answer to the government for violating the revenue law in addition to the state law. The requisite ball was put up and the law-breakers bound over to court.

"A Drop of the Sun."

A Reynoldsville boy of about three summers, while looking at Mars, which has shined forth much comment recently, said: "Aunt Katie, do you see that bright star? It is a drop of the sun."

There two Years.

Last Thursday Dr. J. B. Neale removed a piece of glass from Chas. A. Grubbs' right shoulder where it had been lodged for nearly two years. Mr. Grubbs accidentally broke a window with his shoulder, is how the glass found way into his flesh.

"All that Run May Read"

That if you are looking for a neat store, where everything is fresh and of the best quality, don't pass Barto's by, for he keeps a large stock of fresh staple and fancy groceries in great variety. Confectioneries and fruits are to be found in his store in abundance. Fresh vegetables a specialty.

Why Not do Likewise?

[Punxsutawney News.]

The borough is going to continue the plank of the streets until we can get through the streets without dragging through mud. They will issue $5,000 of borough bonds payable in ten years with a moderate interest. This will give abundant time to pay the indebtedness and no one will be burdened with the debt.

$100.00 a Side.

A championship game of foot ball between the Eleanora and Adrian clubs, for one hundred dollars a side, this being the third game, each club having won one. The game will be played at Sykesville on Saturday, August 27th. There will also be picnic, foot race, mule race, jumping match, etc., at the same place.

A Benumbed Thumb.

Several weeks ago Ezra Hartman received an injury in his left wrist which benumbed his thumb. The wound healed up but the thumb remained torpid and the nerves of that member began to shrivel. Drs. Reynolds and Neale operated on the wrist last Thursday and found a small steel imbedded in it which was doing the mischief.

The Grangers.

To-morrow, August 18th, the Grangers of Jefferson county will hold a meeting in the grove near the Paradise Grange hall. This will be the first annual meeting of the Grangers of this county, and it bids fair to be an interesting meeting for our farmer friends. Good speakers are expected to be present. If the day is a pleasant one Paradise will have the largest gathering of tillers of the soil that has ever been in that neck o' woods.

Clarionites.

Three lads in their teens, who seem to have a hankering after gipsy life, camped in West Reynoldsville several days last week. They started on a camping-out tour through Jefferson and Clearfield counties, but on account of the disagreeable weather while here they came very nearly hoisting the white flag and seeking the comforts to be found under their parental roofs in the town of Clarion where Frank Arnold, Arthur Weidner and W. R. Heichhold are not strangers.

Who Carried the Clock?

Two domestics of a hotel in Reynoldsville hid themselves to the berry patch the other day to see if they were adapted in blackberry picking. They did not want to be detained in the woods until the noon hour, so they took with them a clock, not one of the largest in the universe which is conceded to be one of the eight wonders of the world, but one of goodly size which must have been a burden to the one who took the task of carrying said timepiece. They, of course, arrived in time for dinner.

Gone to a Hospital.

Matthew Phillips, one of our best citizens, who has been subject to epileptic fits for nearly five years, which are becoming more frequent and severe, went to Philadelphia yesterday morning to visit his two daughters who reside there and also with the expectation of entering a hospital of that city with hopes of being cured from the affliction that has caused him so much trouble and worry. We hope he may not be disappointed, but will receive the help hoped for and be able to return to his family and friends with a new hold upon life.

Nomade Band.

A band of gipsies came to Reynoldsville last week and "done the town" as professional horse jockeys. Their forte seemed to be more for horse trading than fortune-telling. They trade old "plugs" until they get fairly good horses and then they sell the good ones. All who have any dealings with such chaps find they are "totrick" for honest people to meddle with. One of the men is on the eve of being a centenarian. A war cloud hovered over the camp after their arrival here and in consequence thereof one wagon load folded their tent and "went it alone" from this place.

LOST—A moonstone scarf pin between Cold Spring Hollow watering trough and Tenth st. Finder will be rewarded by leaving same at this office.

Guiding Star Picnic.

Wednesday, August 10th, a number of members of the Guiding Star, with a few invited friends, went to Sandy Valley to picnic on the beautiful grounds of a sister member, Mrs. W. T. Cox. Unfortunately the heavy rain prevented the program being carried out in full and the supper that was to have been eaten under the orchard trees, was eaten elsewhere. Through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Cox their house and barn were thrown open and the freedom of the place extended to the visitors. A luxuriant supper was spread on improvised tables in the barn and the smell of new mown hay only added zest to the appetite. A freezer of delicious ice cream was prepared and served by the kind host to the guests. Just before boarding the train for home the village brass band serenaded the ladies. This courtesy was duly appreciated and everyone left with a feeling of gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Cox, each member of the band and withal carrying away very pleasant memories of a few hours spent in the social little town of Sherwood.

A VISITOR.

A Bear, Alias a Hog.

One day last week Robert L. Miles and Willis Hoon, a lad of ten or twelve summers, went to the berry patch near Hopkins mill. A lunch and basket and bucket of berries were left in what was supposed to be a safe place and the pickers continued plucking the delicious blackberries. Willis went to look for his bucket of berries and he found that the berries and lunch had been eaten and the basket badly demoralized. The lad could conceive of nothing less than a bear in that wild looking place and he lingered not to inform Mr. Miles of bruins presence, but thought he would rather be hugged by his mother than a bear, and the little hero of the berry patch made a quick retreat from the bear's playground, expecting every jump to be his last. It was only a friendly hog that had dined unwittingly.

A Piano Surprise.

Miss Lulu Creighton, who makes her home with her aunt, Mrs. A. B. Weed, received a most agreeable surprise last Wednesday evening. She has been longing for a piano for sometime. Mr. Weed sent her to Weesville on a short visit for the sole purpose of having a piano placed in the house during her absence, just for a surprise. There is no one in this or adjoining towns who gets more enjoyment out of playing a joke or surprising the people than he, and he generally succeeds in such attempts, and this was no exception, in fact it worked like a charm. When she saw the piano her vocabulary was inadequate for the occasion, she just looked in glad astonishment.

Broke His Neck.

Reynoldsville people were surprised and shocked to hear of the death of Valentine Smith, a former citizen of this place. He has for several years been a resident of Gaylord, Mich., and in company with several others had been huckleberring. He was on his way home on a hand car and in some way fell off breaking his neck. His body was taken back to his old home in Andover, Ohio, where the funeral took place Monday, August 1st. Mr. Smith came to this place when a boy of five in the year 1835 and resided here till 1860. He was a brother of J. L. Smith, Mrs. Francis DeLarme, Mrs. Juliana Reynolds, deceased, and Mrs. Orlanda Gray, Sr.

Makes a Vast Difference.

A Reynoldsville damsel remarked not long ago that she thought a mustache "a horrid thing!" A fortnight had scarcely rolled around until she met a young man whom she had not seen for some time who, when last seen had a smooth upper lip, now has hirsute under his nose. The question was asked her again what she thought of a mustache and she said: "Oh, my! I think it is awful nice!"

Prohibitions.

The Prohibitions held a County Convention in the Court House at Brookville yesterday afternoon. E. L. Groble, of Westmoreland county, was endorsed by the Convention for Congress. An executive committee of three, Volan Reed, Shaffer, A. D. Deemer and J. Van Reed, was appointed to select the candidates for Senate, Surveyor and Coroner.

Registration of Voters.

Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 7 and 8, are the last days for the registration of votes for the fall election. Walter Spry, borough assessor, will sit at the Burns House on those days for that purpose, when all who desire to exercise the privilege of voting this fall, should call and be registered.

Amputation Necessary.

The doctors have decided that it will be necessary to amputate Charley Hartman's finger. It will be remembered that the lad came very nearly severing the index finger off of his left hand some weeks ago with an axe, which the doctors tried to save, but have failed.

Miss May Iseman will sing "No Tongue Can Tell" at the entertainment Monday evening. Don't fail to hear her.

Waverly school shoes for sale at Robinson's.

Died at Niagara Falls.

The death of little Charley Schwem, which occurred at Niagara Falls last Wednesday afternoon, was a great surprise to the people of this place. "Chad," as he was called by his playmates, was an orphan boy, his father, George Schwem, died on New Years day of 1888, and his mother died in May of the following year. He and an older brother, James, were the only survivors of the family. Charley lived with his mother's brother, Dr. W. B. Alexander, at this place. He was an affectionate boy with a sweet disposition and in consequence not only won the love of his uncle Will and family, but in a magic way found a tender place in the hearts of the boys with whom he played, and men and women who become acquainted with the little chap. Being a delicate boy he had the sympathy of all who knew him, which gave him the first foothold in their esteem and in his quiet unassuming way he did nothing to betray the confidence his acquaintances had in him. He was a bright, honorable boy, only thirteen years old last February, yet he seemed to fully comprehend some of the stubborn realities of this life. He was a member of the Junior Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church. After joining the Endeavor the little fellow never went to bed without reading a chapter in the bible. He went to DuBois a few weeks ago to visit his brother, and from there went to Niagara Falls with his cousins to visit an aunt. His illness was of short duration. Peritonitis, which was the cause of his early demise, laid hold of his frail body Sunday evening. His remains were brought to DuBois Thursday and on Friday were covered beneath the sod in the Rumbarger cemetery beside his father and mother. The funeral services were held in the M. E. church at DuBois, conducted by Revs. J. V. Bell and Harvey Grasse Furby. Nine boys of the Junior Endeavor of this place attended the funeral. It is seldom, if ever, that brothers manifest so great love for one another as Jim and "Chad." Jim, who is only nineteen years old, has had more than a double portion of life's sorrows crossing his pathway. First he stood by the new made grave of his father, then the disastrous fire of '88 at DuBois destroyed most of their earthly possessions; then his mother's name was entered on the death roll of '89, and now he is the only one left to mourn for father, mother and brother.

Was You Down?

Rev. Jenkins, the highly colored man who poses as a preacher, but is not the most eloquent one in the world, in fact those who have heard him say he is not a glowing success as a divine, with his five assistants, are holding a camp meeting in the grove. He said Sunday evening that he would talk awhile just to give the choir a rest. They seem more interested in dimes than in sinners, although they generally have a large following of sinners to work on. Such meetings are not very beneficial to a community.

Thanks.

The members of the Reynoldsville Baptist Sunday school desire to return hearty thanks to Hon. S. B. Elliott and Supt. Mellinger for their kindness in giving free transportation to Falls Creek and return on the occasion of their annual picnic August 9th, and also to Supt. Bostwick, of the Electric Car line, DuBois, for the free use of the Electric Park and its accommodations. W. S. STONE, Ass't. Supt.

A Surprise.

A number of Lyman Scott's gentlemen friends, mostly G. A. R. men, met at his residence Saturday evening on account of that being his fifty-second birthday. Refreshments were served, and a good time in generally was the verdict of all who attended. A purse containing fifteen dollars and other presents were left as tokens of their evening's enjoyment.
